Kenosha County Fair Will Offer $20,000 in Prizes

Annual Event at Wilmot One of Largest in So. Wis.

The Kenosha County Fair, one of the largest held in southern Wisconsin will open its gates on Thursday, August 9, at Wilmot, Wisconsin, for the thirty-first time, having first been held in 1920. The fair has had a gradual growth over the years until it has taken a major place in Kenosha county affairs.

The fair this year will be bigger and better than ever, according to Henry S. Frank, secretary, and he added that entertainment which has long been a drawing card at the fair will be on a par with that furnished in other years. Six acts of various types will be presented each afternoon and evening, and they are of a type well calculated to please all comers to the fair.

One of the features of former fairs, the horse show, has been dropped this year because of lack of space, but Frank said that it was probable that it would be put back on the program for next year, as the fair would occupy its own grounds, owned by the fair and that permanent buildings would be erected for the displays. A race track is now in process of building, and several different types of racing will be instituted next summer.

Exhibits on the whole are coming in faster than in other years, and the art department will be especially large. Commercial and industrial display space is practically sold out, and if exhibits continue to come in at the present rate until the closing date, space will not be available for all.

1951 Lake County Fair to Be Best; To Open Thursday

Lake County's 23rd Annual Fair will open at Wauconda, on Thursday, August 2, at 10:00 A. M. Prospects point to one of the best fairs ever held in Lake County, with more than the usual amount of livestock on exhibit. Judging will take place in all departments on the opening day with the exception of hops, sheep, and beef cattle which will be judged on Friday.

Visitors to this year's fair will see an unusually fine flower display. The Libertyville Men's Garden Club is promoting this feature of the show and prospects indicate one of the most outstanding flower shows in Lake County Fair history.

Free entertainment will be provided every afternoon and evening. Featuring this year's entertainment program will be the high fireworks display to be presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Also highlighting the entertainment program will be the famous Barrington Square Dancers. This troupe will perform on Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evenings.

The horse show scheduled for Saturday and Sunday afternoons is expected to attract several thousand and equestrian fans.

Also scheduled for Thursday evening program are the Waukegan Barbershop Quartet and the North Chicago Red Jackets.

The directors have spared no expense this year in providing Lake County with the greatest exposition in Lake County Fair history. Visitors will find the fair instructive and entertaining.

Local F F A Members Prize Winners At McHenry Co. Fair

Members of the Antioch Chapter F F A were winners in the livestock division at the McHenry County Fair last week. Albert Berkiel won the Grand Champion Yorkshire Barrow award over all breeds and also was winner of first place for Yorkshire gilt, boar and litter. Other members showed in the following classes: Thos. All animals above were shown in the open class as well as the F F A division of the show.

Robis, Hit-Run Driver, Gets 6 Months Sentence

Stanley Robis Spring Grove man, who figured in the hit-run death of Mrs. Della Duckwitz, Orchard Street, Antioch, last December, was sentenced to six months in jail as a result of his conviction on the charge of hitting the woman and leaving her fatally injured.

Judge Bernard M. Decker, denied an appeal for probation, and imposed the sentence, which is his first since taking office, and also the first to be imposed under the new reckless homicide law.

States Attorney Robert C. Nelson asked a sentence of one to five years and in this was upheld by Circuit Court Probation Officer Charles E. Mason.

Fire School Closed Wednesday Evening; 175 Firemen Present

More than one hundred seventy-five firemen were in attendance at a firemen's school, which was held here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Ten departments were represented and they included, besides Antioch, Richmond, Spring Grove, Grayslake, Round Lake, Wadsworth, Zion, Winthrop Harbor, Chicago, and Des Plaines.

The school was conducted under the sponsorship of the Illinois Fire School at Urbana, and under the personal direction of Gustave Witke, state deputy fire marshal. Witke was assisted by members of the local department, which played host to the visiting firemen.

Training included handling of hose and ladders, pumping and connecting hose, and general fire fighting. A film, showing approved methods of practice in combating fire, also a film on atomic survival measures was shown during the course of the school.

Refreshments were served by the local department after each of the three school sessions.

Dusette Will Meet Mad Russian Friday

George Dusette, the package of dynamite in wrestling circles from Boston has been signed by Promoter Fred Kohler to wrestle Leon Kirilenko, the Mad Russian next Friday night in the Lake County Stadium, in Round Lake Park, Illinois. The clash will be to a two out of three fall verdict with a sixty minute time limit.

Added to this attractive windup will be a match between two midgelets in a one fall thirty minute time limit bout. Pancho, the Bull and Little Beaver, the Indian are the two little fellows to put spice into Friday's Lake County Stadium card. There are about thirty-five midgelets wrestling around the nation and Promoter, Fred Kohler has signed the top pair in Pancho the Bull and Little Beaver.

Getting back to the main event, Dusette is aiming for a match with Verne Gagne, holder of the junior heavyweight title as recognized by N. W. A. The wins so far chalked up by the Boston Strong Boy are impressive enough to gain a title chance at Gagne. However in facing Kirilenko, the easterner meets the toughest foe he has signed to wrestle to date.

Fred A. Yates, 79, Dies Following Lingering Illness

Fred A. Yates, 79, of 493 Lake Street, passed away Monday, July 30 at 8:30 p.m. at his home following a lingering illness. He was born September 24, 1871 at Liverpool, England, coming to this country with his parents as an infant settling at North Adams, Mass. moving to Chicago in 1897, living there until moving to Antioch twenty-two years ago. On June 18, 1897 he married Miss Cora L. Sears, together 54 years of married life together. His life work was that of a salesman, he retired several years ago.

Survivors include his wife, two sons Earl B. of Chicago and Fred S. of Antioch, one brother Richard M. of Kansas City, Missouri, five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Strang Funeral home Wednesday, August 1 at 1 o'clock, with the Rev. G. Richard Tuttle officiating. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

McHenry Marine Day Set for Sunday, Aug. 5, Sanctioned Race

McHenry's Annual Marine Day will be held on Sunday, August 5, according to information released by the businessmen's club of that city. This year, the city fathers co-operated in the annual celebration by holding a regular official election to elect a queen for the day. The election resulted in a tie with Nancy Slemmon and Barbara Simon each receiving 276 votes. Due to the shortness of the time the board decided to certify two queens for the office, rather than hold a runoff election.

A parade in the morning will start off the festivities, and this will be followed by an afternoon of water sports and entertainment, including comedy races, crowning ceremonies for the queens, demonstrations of aquaplaning, water skiing and a sanctioned A. P. B. A. outboard race program.

Vets Born After Aug. 22, 1922, To Register 2nd Time

Men separated from the Armed Forces, and not previously registered, are required by law to register at a Selective Service local board within 30 days of their separation, if they were born after August 30, 1922, and have reached their 18th birthday. This also applies to those separated from the Coast Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and the Public Health Service.

Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Director of Selective Service for Illinois, made this statement today in commenting on reports received from local boards concerning instances in which separated men were not complying with the regulation.

Failure to comply, Colonel Armstrong said, is a violation of the law. It is not necessary for the man to return to his home to register. He may do so at the local board most convenient to him but should give his home address when he registers.

Local Telephone Operators Have Perfect Attendance Record for the Year

Here's the kind of record that could make the word "absentee" as passe as boy telephone operators and the derby hat.

Eight telephone women have scored a year or more of perfect on-the-job attendance in the Antioch exchange.

At recent ceremonies in the telephone operating room, the operators (traffic women) were cited for their attendance record by F. E. French, district traffic superintendent. Special perfect attendance pencils were awarded as a useful token of the company's appreciation.

The mechanical pencil, inscribed with the winner's name, has a transparent plastic barrel containing one or more small, colored bells, the color and number of bells signify the number of years of perfect attendance: One blue bell for a perfect year, a silver bell for three years, a gold bell for five years, etc.

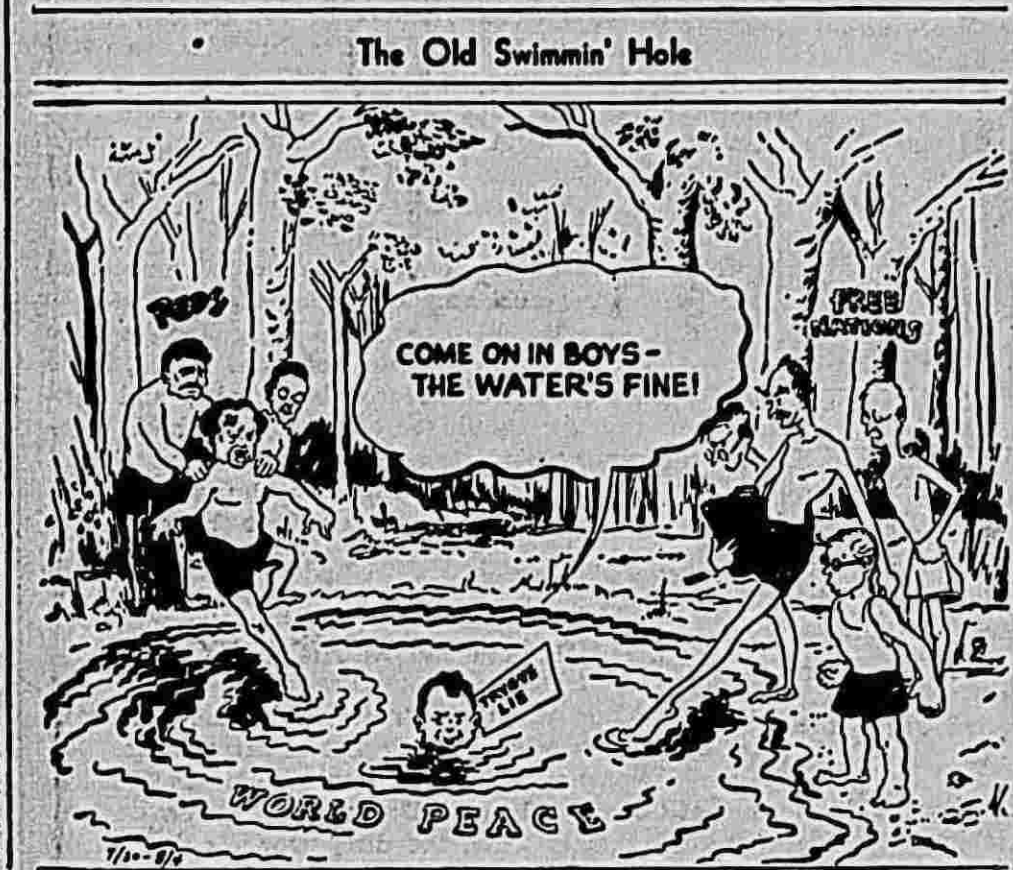

The perfect attendance ground rules include excused absence for appearing in court as a juror or witness, for authorized labor union time off, for poll watching or for quarantines, according to Mrs. J. Ruth Tidmarsh, chief operator.

Eighteen hundred perfect attendance pencils are being awarded throughout Illinois Bell to operating employees who complete a year's attendance or more without absence, she explained.

Winners here are Operators Opal E. Storp, Antioch; Geraldine A. Rayako, Antioch; Lillian M. Gray, Antioch; Lena I. Message, Antioch; J. Ruth Tidmarsh, Antioch, chief operator; Frances A. Barnstable, Lake Villa, supervisor; Julia Gebhardt, Salem, Wis., supervisor; Hazel E. Britton, Antioch, senior clerk.

Richard Kelly Is On Way Home From Korean War Front

Cpl. Richard A. Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Langon Kelly of Linden Lane, Lake Catherine, is on his way home from the Korean front, according to information received this week. Cpl. Kelly has been in Korea for some time, and has served with the 31st Infantry. He was promoted to Cpl. for outstanding performance of duty in combat.

V. F. W. Shellacked At Kenosha Sunday

The Antioch Post V. F. W. baseball team ventured into night baseball for the first time last Sunday evening at Kenosha, when they met the Kenosha Red Sox and took a severe trouncing at the hands of the Kenosha team. Antioch's pitching staff was not having a good day and the Kenosha took full advantage of this fact to run up a 19 to 8 score. Observers said that the Wisconsin players were in fine form and played fine ball.

Ray Bushing started on the hill for the locals but definitely did not have the stuff, walking two men, filling the bases by hitting a batter, and walking in two runs before he was relieved by Olsen who fared little better. He was touched for nine hits in the six innings he worked, and although he struck out ten men he issued ten free passes also. Riddell was sent in in the eighth but after walking the first two men to face him, was relieved by Pregenzer, who struck out the first three men to face him.

Young Gabbo Hartman stayed the full distance for the Kenosha, and although his performance was not exactly tops, he struck out ten men. His control was shaky, however, and he passed ten men on balls. Fine support in the field and a nice scatter of the eight hits he allowed are responsible for the holding of the locals to eight runs.

Jack Pregenzer led the Antioch sluggers with three hits, followed by Bushing who connected safely twice and Jack Crandall who was safe on base each time at bat, once by a hit and three free passes.

The locals will meet the league-leading Wilmot team next week on Sunday at Fox River Park. These two teams were matched twice before and in both instances the locals have held a lead up until the last inning. This time they hope to make it stick for the entire route.

St. Ignatius' Annual Bazaar & Country Fair Set For Friday, Aug. 10

The Annual bazaar and country fair sponsored by the ladies guild of St. Ignatius' church, will be held on Friday, August 10, beginning at 2 p.m., according to Mrs. Maurice Radtke, president of the Guild.

Mrs. Radtke said that efforts to make this one of the biggest and best ever held were being made and that final details were worked out at a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The regular attractions, which have made the event a success in the past, include a home bake sale, and a sale of home made items, including all types of knitting, other fancy work, and useful things made of cloth. Added to these this year will be a selection of small kitchen "gadgets," a tiny toy town, with rides, games, a fish pond, balloons, and other delights for children.

A pony ride concession will also be provided for the children, and a side show will round out the fair. It is expected that many will visit the fair during the afternoon and evening of Friday, August 10th.

Recent callers at the home of L. C. Ross, Bishop Drive, were Mr. and Mrs. Erman and daughter Alberta of Venetian Village, Mrs. Mildred J. Bretz and son Phillip and Miss Hunny MacArthur of Forest Glen, Illinois.

John Trusch, 3209 Sheffield Avenue, Chicago, formerly a resident of Antioch, is spending a few days here renewing old acquaintances.

Giants Lead Little League Play; Season End Sunday, Aug. 5

The Giants, sponsored by Antioch Lumber and Coal Company, lead the little league play with 3 wins and 1 loss, this week with but three games remaining to be played. A game Wednesday evening will decide who will play in the windup next Sunday. After the ending of the local league schedule, several games will be played with neighboring towns, and a game between the Antioch Lions club, and the pick of the little league stars.

Little league players, 87 of them, were loaded into grade school buses Tuesday morning for a trip to Chicago to see a big league game. They were accompanied by the coaches and some of the parents as well as an escort furnished by the Lake County Sheriff's office.

Six of the boys, one from each team, appeared over WGN-TV on the Harry Creighton show. They were: L. Christensen, Giants; Hanke, Dodgers; Wertz, Tigers; Nelson, Yanks; Cain, Sox; and Salesman, Cubs. At a later date six of the boys will be guests on the Lynn Burton Show over WBKB.

Adults who accompanied the boys were Wm. Gerber, John Dupre, Mr. and Mrs. M. Verkest, Wendell Nelson, Otto Christensen, Charles Larson, John Lucas, C. A. Wolfenbarger, Tod Maplethorpe, Ray Wells, Thomas Mahoney and the two school bus drivers.

The Giants took a heads-up game from the Sox last Wednesday evening, July 25, by a score of 9-8. The Giants were low in the slugging department garnering only four hits off the pitching of Dupre, Pinger and Huml, but managed to chase in nine men to cop the honors. The Sox hit safely 8 times off the pitching. (Continued on page 7)

Womens Club Charity Drive Party Set For Thursday, August 16

The Annual Antioch Womens Club Charity party will be held at St. Peter's church hall, on Thursday, August 16, according to information furnished by the publicity chairman of the Club. The event will feature card games of all types with the usual fine prizes. In addition other entertainment will be arranged for.

The annual party will provide funds for continuation of the work done by the club in connection with the sponsoring of a ward at Downey hospital, where veterans are entertained once a month. At these entertainments candy, cigarettes, and home made cakes are given the hospitalized veterans, as well as musical entertainment.

Other charities made possible by the party are annual gifts to the Scout Home, the Girl Scouts, the Rescue Squad, Red Cross, etc. Tickets for the party are on sale by all members of the club.

Lippert Asks Release From Menard Hospital

Arthur H. Lippert, committed to the Illinois State Security hospital, at Menard, Illinois, after he had killed his wife at their Venetian Village home last summer, has filed a petition asking his release from the institution on the grounds that he is cured of the mental illness responsible for the act.

Lake region residents will recall that he was on a three day pass from Elgin hospital for the insane at the time of the slaying.

Antioch Lions Club Carnival Now Open; Will Close Sunday

Good Crowd Was On Hand For Opening On Wed.

The Antioch Lions Club annual carnival opened on Wednesday evening, and a good crowd was on hand to take advantage of the amusements offered. The free aerial act, featuring Miss Kayletta, was especially well received and this alone is expected to attract many for the four more days the carnival will be open.

A complete absence of flies, mosquitos and other insect pests on the grounds is making for a more enjoyable time at the carnival, due to complete spraying of the grounds with D D T prior to the opening of the carnival Wednesday.

Profits derived from the annual carnival are put to good use, since the club is responsible for funds to operate the Rescue Squad and also makes sizable donations annually to the Scout home, and many other community projects. Last year one third of the cost of the new street lighting system was paid by the club.

A large tent is completely filled with commercial displays, and several booths and concessions are being operated by organizations other than the Lions Club. A booth offering for sale items made by the Veterans Craft division of the veterans hospital is being sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. The Auxiliary of the local V. F. W. Post is operating the food concession and the Antioch Rescue Squad Fund Committee has a booth on the grounds.

Four more days remain in which to visit the carnival and club members urge that all residents come to the carnival for an evening of fun and entertainment.

Gus Grundstrom's New Viking Sets New "E" Racing Runabout Mark

Gus Grundstrom, 2742 W. 36th Place, Chicago, and Grass Lake Summer resident, well-known here through activities in the Chain O'Lakes Boat Club, realized a long time ambition several weeks ago, when his E racing runabout, the new "Viking" set the world's record up to 71.856 miles per hour at a race meet in Florida.

Mr. Grundstrom has designed several E boats during the past six years and the new world's record holder is a result of his experiments with this type boat. The E class allows a single planing surface, similar to the regular inboard type of boat familiar to all on the Lakes and allows but 244 cu. in. displacement in the power plant.

This is the first record ever to be held in the class in the middle west, and Mr. Grundstrom is to be congratulated.

Illinois Cars Are Being Junked At A Rate of 4000 Month

Illinois automobile owners are junking their cars at the rate of more than 4,000 each month, according to figures released by Secretary Edward J. Barrett. This represents an average increase of approximately 1,000 a month over 1950. In that year, certificates of junking totaled 36,530; as of June 30 of this year, 24,462 such certificates have been issued, Secretary Barrett announced.

Under the Motor Vehicle Anti-Theft Act, it is mandatory for an owner to obtain a certificate prior to junking a car. An owner seeking such a certificate must surrender his assigned title along with the application for a junking certificate.

According to Secretary Barrett, the amount of detail involved in the issuance of a Certificate of Junking is almost identical with the procedure of followed in issuing a Certificate of Title.

The O. E. S. Past Masters club will hold its regular meeting and party at the home of Mrs. George Bacon, Thursday evening. Following the bridge games, refreshments will be served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Curran, returned home Friday after spending a week in Ocala, Fla.

AS MODERN AS TODAY

A symbol of modern coal mining is now under construction in a Western state. In this new mine coal will be produced, loaded and transported by the ingenious machines that have supplanted the shovels, picks and mules of the old days. Above ground, ready to receive the coal at the surface, will be preparation plants to screen, size, wash and grade the product before it is marketed.

If this particular mine were unique, it would be of small significance. What makes it important is that it is typical of the modern coal industry. In the past five years, more than 200 bituminous mines that have a daily capacity of 500 tons or greater have been opened in the United States. These mines are mechanized in every phase of operation. And the older mines, as well, have been rapidly installing the most modern machines and equipment.

Here is why the American coal mines are so tremendously superior in productive capacity to those of the rest of the world—and why the American miner is paid a wage that would seem absolutely unbelievable to his counterpart in the other coal-producing countries. Remarkable machines, rather than human muscles, do the bulk of the work.

Our coal industry has taken the heavy demands of the defense program in stride. It is meeting every civilian demand, and it is exporting millions of tons of coal this year. Coal is an old fuel—but the industry's methods of producing and handling it are as modern as today.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Jean Nemer of Lang Lake wore a blue net dress and a small Dutch cap, and carried pink daisies. The groom's attendant was his brother Edward. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mortenson live in New Jersey and were unable to be present, so her grandfather, Mr. Weiss, gave her in marriage. Guests were from Glenview, Libertyville, Chicago, Waukegan, Gurnee, Long Lake and Lake Villa. A reception was held at the Walker home east of town and 60 or more attended. The groom is employed by the Blumschein Brothers and the bride has a secretarial job in Chicago. They will be at home at Lake Villa after a short honeymoon.

POUNDED TO PIECES

Just how much damage is heavy commercial truck traffic doing to our highways?

Any motorist can pretty well answer that with the evidence of his own eyes. And, in addition, he can substantiate that evidence with the views of the experts.

In October, 1949, the American Automobile Association said: "Billions of dollars worth of the nation's finest highways are being pounded to pieces by overweight and overloaded commercial vehicles."

At the same time, Thomas H. MacDonald, U. S. Commissioner of Public Roads, said: "We are overloading our highways in their traffic volume capacity and in their structural capacity. There is more than ample proof. . . Prior to the war damage had reached alarming proportions. With the marked increase in heavy loads since the end of the war, the damage has become even more alarming."

The highway departments of 41 states have reported that overloaded trucks are damaging their roads.

Evidence of this character could be recited for page after page. What, then, is the solution? First, loads should be kept within reasonable limits, and violators of the law should be severely punished. Second, the commercial users of our highways should foot their fair share of the bill for building and maintaining roads which are required to handle their heavy loads. Neither of those things is being done today.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Well folks, friends, and countrymen, I am crossing the bridge into Hickorytown to spread the bad news into every city, wayside village and farm. Look out I say. For what, chimes in Henry. For the closing days of Congress, I says. During the last few days of Congress, that is when the dirty work is done—that is when, during the confusion and dust stirred up by getting ready to go home, and quick, a congressman votes "Yes sir" on anything proposed, if it means he can head for home a day sooner.

All the unneeded things, which Mr. Congressman aided in staving off earlier in the session are dusted off by the Big Govt. boys and tacked on—in fine print—to the motion to adjourn. And out the window goes any aid to the heavy laden taxpayer. I am talking turkey to you folks who figure you have a pretty fair congressman down there on the Riley Potomac. Right now, this evening, a few words of warning to him, is every man's and every sweet little woman's prime task. Five minutes, is all it takes, to tell that congressman and senator to watch his step and that you expect him to show his colors and backbone.

Hearken, I say—it is your very own dinero they will fritter away. Tell 'em.

Yours with the low down,

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

SWINE DYSENTERY A DEADLY DISEASE

Dysentery in swine is a deadly, treacherous, hard-to-control disease. Yet, by correct sanitation and other precautions, swine producers can do a lot to reduce the heavy losses caused by dysentery.

This contagious swine ailment is thought to be due to a germ much like that causing human cholera, and is now recognized as a specific disease. Infection spreads fast, killing as many as 60 per cent of affected swine in a stricken herd. Hogs may die suddenly, after two or three days' illness, or they may linger on for two weeks or longer. Those that recover are stunted and usually unthrifty, are not immune against later attacks, and may act as "carriers."

One type of control plan may be effective on one farm, while some other type may be required on another farm. The veterinarian's advice should be obtained on the best program, and in setting up an adequate scheme of sanitation. Certain general preventive measures are advisable in all cases. Great care should be taken, for example, in bringing in pigs from sale barns or public stockyards. Such newcomers should be isolated for at least two weeks.

A typical case of dysentery.

Frequent cleaning and disinfecting of quarters is always advisable. Clean water, good feed, and good methods of feeding, all help to guard against swine dysentery. Symptoms of dysentery include bloody scouring and a rise in temperature. If suspicious symptoms develop, the ailing pigs should be separated from the healthy ones and examined by a veterinarian at once.

Mrs. Emil Hall was underwent an emergency operation at St. Therese hospital Saturday. Reports are that she is very much improved.

'Mothballing' Process Is Said Much Improved

WASHINGTON—The United States Army's "mothballing" process, a system designed to protect "G.I." war equipment from rust and corrosion when not in use, may be greatly simplified as a result of tests now being conducted by the Army Ordnance Research and Development Division.

Proper packaging is of prime importance in protecting war materials from severe weather conditions and many of the protective methods adopted by the Army during World War II have proven to be expensive, complicated, and time consuming while failing, in many instances, to offer complete protection for the equipment.

Army Ordnance may have the answer to the problem of providing long-range protection for equipment as a result of its exhaustive tests with a new chemical now being used commercially. The chemical, technically known as "volatile corrosion inhibitor," is a powdery substance which releases a thin vapor, forming an invisible protective shield around steel or aluminum. The vapor film neutralizes the effect of moisture and air on the metal surface, thus preventing rust and corrosion from taking place.

Protective Wrapper

This inhibitor is applied as a coating on one side of a packaging paper and provides a wrapping for the equipment to be protected. Only very simple operations are required to fully protect a weapon or other steel objects from the danger of rust or corrosion; that of placing a clean gun in a treated wrapper and sealing the package. When the wrapper has been sealed, the vapor inhibitor completely surrounds the metal, penetrating to the smallest parts with its protective film to insure complete protection.

The vapor inhibitor would radically alter the present methods used to safeguard Army equipment. At the present time, Army rifles, machine guns, and other metal parts are being packed in a heavy grease for protection against rust and corrosion. Experts say that it is almost impossible to coat every part of a weapon because some parts are too inaccessible to reach with conventional preservatives. As a result, such parts go unprotected and may begin to rust within a short period of time.

Removing the grease and getting the weapon ready for use has presented additional difficulties. Ordinarily, cleaning rifles with a wire brush and solvent takes a skilled man at least 28 hours to prepare a case of 10 M-1 rifles for use. Because of the detailed cleaning required, many small parts are lost; parts that must be replaced before the weapon can be fired. With all these precautions, rust and corrosion still appear in small spaces.

Easier Cleaning

From the soldier's viewpoint, it is also evident that any new system of cleaning would be an improvement over the solvent and wire brush drudge. Now, Army Ordnance may have the answer to the "G.I.'s" dream of easier cleaning techniques.

Recent tests of the chemical have produced many significant results. If the treated wrapper should be punctured during shipment and moisture allowed to enter the package, the vapors will still protect a weapon even in the presence of 100% humidity. This protection lasts for a shorter period of time than that ordinarily given when the package is completely sealed, however.

A short time ago, a large number of rifle barrels protected by treated wrappers were shipped to Tokyo, Japan and placed in storage vaults. When the 90-day test period had ended, the barrels were removed from their protective packages and no evidence of rust or corrosion appeared. To further attest to the effectiveness of the vapor inhibitors, the rifle barrels gave the same appearance as newly processed parts.

Army Ordnance is now conducting experiments which may improve the old protective "cacoen," used at the end of World War II to protect planes, guns, and vessels from severe weather conditions. Researchers have developed a "shroud" or "cloak" treated with vapor inhibitors which may be placed over aircraft engines and objects of similar size in one operation. To date, these tests have produced highly satisfactory results.

Man Finds Smart Piggies Won't Always Act the Hog

WATERTOWN, Wis. — Contrary to popular belief, a smart pig won't make a hog of himself.

John Schroeder, Watertown, is now in the manufacturing business because he believed in a porker's ability to balance his own diet.

Schroeder built a hopper that contained 800 pounds of feed in an attempt to simplify his pig feeding problems. The feed was mixed with water and stirred by electricity, before passing on to a trough, from where the pigs help themselves.

The automatic feeder was so successful that Schroeder now makes and sells them commercially.

Carried Tails In Carts

Mary's little lamb led a pampered life, but even he couldn't boast of the service given some of his cousins in parts of Asia. Members of a variety of sheep storing a large amount of fat in their tails, they are fitted with little two-wheeled carts in which to carry the heavy appendages.

Cornice Improves Window

Dress up your living room by fitting the windows with easy-to-make cornices. In fact, a cornice adds to the attractiveness of almost any window in the home. One type is made by forming a framework in the shape of an inverted U from 1 by 6-inch dressed lumber and fastening it to the window frame.

Life Expectancy

Progress in extending the average length of life has been more rapid in the industrial population than in the population as a whole.

High Priced Steel Is Available For H. S.; None at Good Price

Inquiry into the progress of the Tonyan Construction Company, prime contractor for erection of the high school addition, showed this week that nothing has been done, and it seems that matters rest just where they did three weeks ago. Plumbing and heating men are working, but no masons or other workmen are on the job, due to the lack of steel for the building.

Mrs. Lester Osmond, secretary of the board of education, said today that it was revealed at a meeting of the board late last week that steel was available at high price, but that none at the price contracted for with the Ryerson Steel sales. The board was given some assurance that steel for the building would arrive here on Tuesday, but to date it has not shown up.

The Tonyan Construction Company has a large building at Benet Lake under construction at present, and it is believed that once this is completed, action will begin in earnest on the high school addition.

In an interview with a sub-contractor this week, your reporter learned that the high school job is regarded as a "winter" job and that completion of the shops is not expected in time for use this school year.

Board Hires Janitor

Other action of the board at the meeting included hiring as a full time janitor and bus driver, Art Anderson, of Grass Lake. Two applications for the post of librarian were withdrawn before the meeting, leaving one applicant, who was accepted, but has not yet communicated with the board to accept the position. The engagement of a librarian will complete the staff and faculty for the coming school year.

Two games were played Sunday when the Tigers met the Dodgers in the opener to lose three to 11. K. Anderson, hurling for the Dodgers pitched a no-hitter, the Tigers obtaining their 3 runs on walks and errors. Anderson held the Tigers hitless for the first four innings, but was relieved in the fifth when he lost control and sent two men to first base hit by pitched balls, and then issued three bases on balls. He was replaced by Pinger, who put out the fire, and then was sent back to the mound in the sixth to again render the Tigers helpless.

At high airplane speeds, atmospheric dust used to ruin the finish on aircraft. Industrial finish engineers developed an extremely hard finish which was smooth enough to eliminate shock waves at high speeds and durable enough to withstand blasts of dust.

Ice Those Batteries!

Because heat and low humidity deteriorate dry cell batteries, consumers can keep surplus batteries best by storing them in a refrigerator, preferably in a container but not tightly sealed.

August 2, 3, 4 and 5

County Fair. Mixture of the old and the new. A festival which varies from generation to generation, yet remains essentially the same. Market place, town meeting, carnival, and farmer's school. Panorama of grandstand and racetrack, the Midway, crowds, exhibition halls and barns. Streets of booths and flapping tents. County Fair. Cruz of the year's farm and fireside effort. Magnificent animals. Colossal fruits and vegetables. Mouth-watering jellies and preserves. Intricate needlework. Time of expectancy and relaxation for farmers and nostalgic city folks. County Fair.

Why Sunday?

Why do most Christians observe Sunday rather than Saturday? The custom of Sunday worship began in apostolic times as a weekly commemoration of Christ's resurrection. Most Christians have not regarded this change of days as signifying disrespect for the Commandment, "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy."

Don't miss the Home First Aid Chart
in this month's telephone bill

We may never go through a bombing attack, but how would you help victims of shock, burns, fractures—whatever the cause? What would you do for heat exhaustion, poisoning, animal bites—before the doctor comes?

These questions and others are answered for you in a valuable Home First Aid Chart, "How to Prepare for an Emergency," being distributed this month as a public service by Illinois Bell.

This chart has been developed in cooperation with the Chicago Chapter of the American Red Cross, the State of Illinois Office of Civil Defense and the Chicago Civil Defense Corps.

Your copy should reach you this month, included with your telephone bill. If you are not a telephone subscriber, your nearest telephone Business Office will gladly provide a copy. Get it, keep it. Post it near your first aid supplies where you can quickly refer to it when needed.

And remember, in any emergency, your telephone is the most valuable first aid of all.

Safeguard Metal Against Rust

Repainting iron railings, foot scrapers, steel window casements and other architectural hardware is not difficult. All old loose, scaly paint should first be scraped or wire-brushed. The surface should then be coated with red lead, zinc yellow, blue lead, oxide of iron or zinc dust-zinc oxide. After this has been allowed to dry thoroughly for a week or ten days, it should be covered with two coats of house paint or exterior enamel.

Putting the Ocean to Work

For the past 15 years, International Nickel's Corrosion Testing Station, near Wilmington, North Carolina, on the Atlantic Ocean, has put the ocean to work to prevent damages caused by sea water, sea air, and sea nourished marine growth. Through the numerous tests made there, it has been possible to indicate better choice of materials to withstand attack by corrosion.

Find New Sources

New sources for high grade iron ore have been found outside of this country in Labrador, Venezuela and Liberia in West Africa. But some of these projects may not be completed for several years.

Cadmium-Nickel Battery

A new type long life battery which, according to its producers, will last from 20 to 25 years, was recently introduced in the United States. The new battery features accumulator elements of cadmium and nickel in an alkaline solution and operates equally well in hot or cold temperatures. It is designed to replace lead-acid batteries in such fields as railway car lighting and air-conditioning.

Color Changer

Of interest to the architect is the fact that, together with bronze, nickel silver alloys, with suitably chosen nickel content, afford a wide and graduated scale of colors in metal ranging from reddish bronze through pink, to gray and the white of the alloys containing as much as 30 per cent of nickel.

Way Back When

The first known landscape artist was a Cro-Magnon who lived about 14,000 years ago near what is now Kisslerloch in Switzerland. The subject of his picture was a remarkably life-like reindeer browsing in the grass beside a pool of water. Canvas for this prehistoric work of art was a piece of reindeer antler.

Choosing Toys

Choosing the most worthwhile toys and play materials for children is as much of a practical art as planning a balanced diet for them.
